When I get the feeling, I need sexual... confusion. This producer uses a harmless pest treatment called sexual confusion. Hormone-releasing tags are hung among the vines to encourage pesky insects to mate elsewhere and leave their grape vines out of it.

Pomerol is one of the smallest regions in Bordeaux at approximately 3km by 4km. Production is limited and in high demand due partly to excellent quality and partly to its fame. If being served at Queen Elizabeth II's wedding banquet didn't make it a pop culture hit, then President JFK's declaration that his favourite wine came from Pomerol did.
