FRENCH ELEGANCE: LE ROYAL MONCEAU-RAFFLES SPA MY BLEND BY CLARINS

THE LOWDOWN On a quiet street steps away from the Champs Élysées, lies the luxurious hotel Le Royal Monceau-Raffles Paris. Inside, an astounding 1,500 square metres is devoted to the Spa My Blend by Clarins, and is open to guests and visitors alike. Philippe Starck designed the modern, all-white temple of relaxation, and a glass ceiling offers a view to the sky.

THE HIGHLIGHT Take a swim in the pool and enjoy the relaxation area, or take advantage of the sauna, hammam and laconium rooms. A signature My Blend tailored facial offers a diagnosis and bespoke treatment that tends to the specific needs of your skin. The more adventurous should try the Watsu Ritual: a combination of shiatsu, muscle manipulation and traditional massage that takes place in a private, heated pool. This is one of only two spas in Paris to offer the unique therapy.
