MARCH EDITION

The Savoy Concierge's guide to London

SAVOY

WELCOME TO LONDON

Welcome to the March Edition of The Insider Magazine, where the charm of spring begins to unfurl across London. As winter softens into milder days, we invite you to celebrate its unique blend of tradition and renewal.

The streets of London burst into vibrant green as St. Patrick's Day arrives. Whether you're joining the lively parade on the 16th or enjoying traditional Irish music in a cozy pub, there's a sense of joy that lights up every corner of the city.

We also take a moment to celebrate International Women's Day—a time to honour the incredible strength, resilience, and creativity of women everywhere.

Mother's Day offers a special opportunity to show appreciation for the love that mothers and maternal figures bring into our lives. Whether it's a quiet brunch or a thoughtful gift, this day is all about celebrating the care and kindness that make our lives richer.

Let us be your guide as you navigate the exciting events and natural beauty of March in London.

Enjoy a March filled with green festivities, empowered voices, and cherished memories.

We look forward to welcoming you all soon!

Whether you're craving classic curries, grilled specialties, or modern fusion dishes, expect modern twists on traditional flavours.

Himi

Soho
Open now

"Himi" is a name that combines "Hi" (representing Japan) and "Mi" (meaning flavour), symbolising Japan's natural abundance and rich culinary culture. Husband-and-wife chef duo Tamas and Tomoko invite you to the drinking and dining dens of Tokyo and Osaka—places where coworkers, friends, and family gather to unwind with delicious seasonal food and exceptional drinks.

3 Gorges

Fitzrovia
Opens March 2025

A contemporary, elegant Hubei and Cantonese restaurant. Chef Qian, one of London's best regarded Chef Qian, one of London's best-regarded Cantonese chefs, will be at the helm of the kitchen. The menu will feature the likes of: Eight Treasure Gourd Duck, Three Coloured Xiaolongbao and the signature Three Ways of Eating Geoduck. It's set to be an impressive new high end South Asian restaurant.

Alfonsina

Barbican
Opens March 2025

Born in Argentina, with Italian and Lebanese heritage, Chef Ricardo Younis has now landed in London where he opens Alfonsina - named after a beach in his home town of Mar del Plata, south of Buenos Aires. He says it will be exciting and no-nonsense at the same time Brutalist and bold - without losing details and character. Expect raw, unrefined aesthetic, warm, in a poetic form.

Tatar Bunar

Shoreditch
Opens March 2025

Two Ukrainian restaurateurs, Alex Cooper and Anna Andriienko, are getting ready to open Tatar Bunar in Shoreditch. The duo have multiple restaurants in Ukraine and throughout the war, they've been using these as food distribution points to help those affected by the conflict. The restaurant itself is inspired by Alex's hometown, Tatarbunary in southern Ukraine, with a focus on family recipes, specifically from his grandmother.

OUR THEATRE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Years

Harold Pinter Theatre
Until 19th April 2025

Five brilliant actresses (including the wonderful Gina McKee and Deborah Findlay) play out the tale of one woman, depicting her at different points in her story from the swinging 60's through to the early 21st century. It's masterfully put together, roaring through the woman's life, sometimes hilarious, sometimes intensely moving. And it's certainly explicit, truthful and sensitive. A wonderful tale of womanhood, which doesn't shy away from reality.

Unicorn

Garrick Theatre
Until 26th April 2025

A new play by Mike Bartlett (he who wrote the TV series Doctor Foster starring Suranne Jones) is always good news. This is an intimate study of a troubled couple who decide to open up their marriage in a bid to bring back some sparkle. The leads (Nicola Walker and Stephen Mangan) have, weirdly, just finished playing a troubled couple on TV in 'The Split'. They are both superb actors – extremely subtle, detailed, both moving and funny. In short they are a joy to watch, and it's a privilege to see them on stage together.

Oedipus

The Old Vic
Until 29th March 2025

Bizarrely, this version of the Greek classic follows hot on the heels of another very recent production of 'Oedipus' which starred Mark Strong and Lesley Manville and garnered much praise. This version at the Old Vic promises excellence also, with an extremely strong team involved. It's conceived and developed by the powerhouse that is Matthew Warchus (he directed 'Groundhog Day'), and stars Rami Malek (won an Oscar for 'Bohemian Rhapsody') and Indira Varma (Olivier Award for 'Present Laughter' at the Old Vic).

Oliver! The Musical

Gielgud Theatre
Until 28th September 2025

What a brilliant revival. The story is grippingly told – you forget what a chilling tale it is – and the cast are uniformly strong: Simon Lipkin is living the role of Fagin, and loving it; Shanay Holmes as Nancy brings the house down with her rendition of 'As Long As He Needs Me'; and the kids are a joy to watch. Then there's the choreography, with the big numbers, such as 'Oom Pah Pah', leaving you exhausted just watching them.

Cabaret

Kit Kat Club at the Playhouse
Until 4th October 2025

The show envelops you from the moment you're offered a schnapps on the way to your seat! This is an inventive, intriguing, sexy new version of the decadent musical. Exhilarating from start to finish, it's a must-see. You really do feel like you're in a nightclub, surrounded by captivating performers. There's a sense of confrontation and mischief about the whole thing, as events in the pre-war Berlin bar track Germany's descent into darkness. Astounding. It now stars Billy Porter (from 'Pose') and Marisha Wallace (the best of the 'Dreamgirls').

TOUR OF THE MONTH

With Mother's Day falling in March, why not go beyond the usual flowers and chocolates and treat her to a truly regal experience? This specially curated royal-themed tour offers a glimpse into the grandeur of British heritage, followed by an elegant afternoon tea fit for a queen.

Private Tour of Windsor and Afternoon Tea

9.00am-6.00pm

Duration: 9 hours (including transfers)

Windsor Castle - <https://www.rct.uk/visit/windsor-castle>

Windsor Castle - <https://www.rct.uk/visit/windsor-castle>

This wonderful day out will introduce you to the Royal Town of Windsor - its beauty, majesty and legendary status as the capital of Royalty in Britain. Your day will begin with a tour of Windsor Castle - the oldest and largest occupied castle in the land. Nearly 1,000 years old, built by William the Conqueror, the castle has played a key role in the Royal dynasty for generations. On this tour we will show you the castle precincts, the chapel (the location of the recent Royal weddings and HM Queen Elizabeth II's final resting place) and the incredible State Apartments - the personal rooms of the Royal family, as well as the famous Queen Mary Doll's House. Please note that no guiding is permitted in the State Apartments, but your guide will escort you in and point you towards clerks who can give you more information. The guide will share with you stories of the staff that maintain the castle, their relationship with the Royals and the famous Monarchs who inhabited the castle over the centuries.

We will then take you to enjoy some of the best afternoon teas in the country - traditional and delicious. Your guide will join you and explain the history of the tea, the origin of the famous sandwiches, the correct etiquette, the place of tea in the British psyche and a thorough understanding of how to win any future "milk before or after" debates. Depending on availability, we will either take you to Cliveden House or the Fairmont Windsor.

Cliveden House is one of the most beautiful stately homes and country estates in the land, home to the Astor family. This famous house is also the site of many period films and TV shows including Downton Abbey, Sherlock Holmes and Cinderella - quintessentially English. This is a National Trust property so after your tea you can enjoy a wonderful walk through the award-winning Grade 1 listed gardens and woodlands. The Fairmont Windsor, on the other hand, is an elegant and upmarket 5-star hotel situated in beautiful, landscaped grounds. The building exudes grand luxury and the team room was once the room in which the original owners of the house stored and displayed their vast collection of orchids from around the world.
